Letter of Recommendation for Paul Ostroverhy

It is with great pleasure and confidence that I recommend Paul Ostroverhy for his university applications. I have had the privilege of knowing Paul for three years in my capacity as CCF Contingent Commander at Stowe School. During this time, I have been consistently impressed by his character, dedication, and particularly by the discipline and leadership he has demonstrated through his involvement in our Combined Cadet Force (CCF) contingent.

Paul has been an active and committed member of the CCF throughout the past three years. His participation has gone far beyond simple attendance; he has embraced every opportunity, showing remarkable enthusiasm for drills, fieldcraft exercises, first aid, and leadership tasks. He progressed steadily through the ranks, achieving the position of Cadet Lance-Corporal - a reflection of his capabilities and the respect he earned from both peers and instructors.

His involvement in the CCF is a clear testament to Paul's exceptional discipline. The demands of CCF training require punctuality, meticulous attention to detail, resilience in challenging conditions, and the ability to follow complex instructions with precision. Paul consistently met - and often exceeded - these expectations. He demonstrated impressive self-control, focus, and perseverance, while also balancing his CCF duties with considerable academic commitments - a skill that will undoubtedly serve him well at university.

Moreover, Paul has developed strong leadership qualities through the CCF. He has shown initiative and a keen sense of responsibility, frequently stepping forward to lead tasks and support his peers. I have personally observed his ability to communicate clearly and respectfully, make sound decisions under pressure, and inspire others through his positive example and dedication. His leadership style is one of quiet confidence and earned authority.

In summary, Paul is a disciplined, responsible, and capable young man with clear leadership potential, nurtured through his committed involvement in the Combined Cadet Force. He possesses the maturity, work ethic, and interpersonal skills required to thrive in a demanding academic environment and to contribute meaningfully to a university community. He is precisely the kind of motivated and well-rounded student that scholarship programmes and academic institutions seek to support.

I wholeheartedly endorse Paul Ostroverhy's university applications and recommend him without reservation. He has the drive and character to succeed in all his future endeavours.

Please do not hesitate to contact me if you require any further information.

Sincerely,
Major Andrew Arnold
